PERFORMING PASTS
Reinventing the Arts in Modern South India

Edited by Indira Viswanathan Peterson
and Davesh Soneji
Contents

List of Illustrations vii

Preface and Acknowledgements ix

Note on Transliteration of Indian Terms xiii

Introduction

Indira Viswanathan Peterson and Davesh Soneji 1

PART I: CANONS AND CANONIZATION

1 Embracing the Canonical: Identity, Tradition, and Modernity in Karnatak Music

Lakshmi Subramanian 43

2 Inscribing Practice: Reconfigurations and Textualizations of Devadasi Repertoire in Nineteenth and Early Twentieth-century South India

Hari Krishnan 71

3 Standardize, Classicize, and Nationalize: The Scientific Work of the Music Academy of Madras, 1930–52

Matthew Harp Allen 90

PART II: THE LOCAL AND THE GLOBAL: REGIONAL AND NATIONAL PASTS

4 Temple Stage as Historical Allegory in Bharatanatyam: Rukmini Devi as Dancer-historian

Avanthi Meduri 133
Contents

5 Serving Two Masters? Bharatanatyam and Tamil Cultural Production
   JANET O'SHEA 165

PART III: VIEWS FROM WITHIN: SELF-CONSCIOUS REFLECTIONS ON TRADITION

6 Marabu, the Inherent Flexibility of the Karnatak Tradition: The Example of Bharatanatyam
   SASKIA KERSENBOM 197

7 In Search of the Guru: Technology and Authenticity in Karnatak Music
   AMANDA WEIDMAN 225

8 Rewriting Cultural History through the Novel: Music and Dance as Tamil Tradition in Kalaimani’s Tillana Mohanambal
   INDIRA VISWANATHAN PETERSON 252

PART IV: IDENTITY, COMMUNITY, AND RESISTANCE: IMAGINING ALTERNATIVES TO TRADITION

9 Memory and the Recovery of Identity: Living Histories and the Kalavantulu of Coastal Andhra Pradesh
   DAVESH SONEJI 283

10 One Kirttanai, Three Songs
   ZOE C. SHERINIAN 313

List of Indian Names and Terms 349

List of Contributors 355