Teaching for Wisdom

Cross-cultural Perspectives on Fostering Wisdom

Michel Ferrari
Editor
Ontario Institute for Studies in Education
University of Toronto, ON, Canada

Georges Potworowski
Editor
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI, USA

Springer
Contents

Introduction
Sophia’s World: Episodes from the History of Wisdom
Trevor Curnow ........................................ 1

Part I  Fostering Wisdom as Expertise

Fostering Wisdom: A Psychological Perspective
Antje Stange and Ute Kunzmann .................. 23

Teaching for Wisdom Through History: Infusing Wise Thinking Skills in the School Curriculum
Robert J. Sternberg, Linda Jarvin and Alina Reznitskaya .................. 37

The Cultivation of Character Strengths
Nansook Park and Christopher Peterson .......... 59

Wisdom in Elementary School
Richard Reeve, Richard Messina and Marlene Scardamalia ............... 79

Master Zhu’s Wisdom
John Berthrong ..................................... 93

Part II  Teaching for Wisdom as Personal Transformation

Wisdom and Learning to Be Wise in Chinese Mahayana Buddhism
Vincent Shen ....................................... 113

Beginner’s Mind: Paths to the Wisdom that is Not Learned
Eleanor Rosch ...................................... 135

Ascending to Wisdom: A Christian Pedagogy
Pamela Bright ...................................... 163
Part III  Learning from Wise People

The Wisdom of Plato's Phaedo
David Roochnik ................................................................. 179

Can Wisdom Be Taught? Kant, Sage Philosophy, and Ethnographic Reflections from the Swahili Coast
Kai Kresse ................................................................. 189

Part IV  Conclusion

Developing Expert and Transformative Wisdom: Can Either Be Taught in Public Schools?
Michel Ferrari ................................................................. 207

Contributors ................................................................. 223

Author Index ................................................................. 225

Subject Index ................................................................. 229