Psychological Perspectives on Ethical Behavior and Decision Making

edited by

David De Cremer
Erasmus University
CONTENTS

PART I
INTRODUCTION

1 Psychology and Ethics: What It Takes to Feel Ethical When Being Unethical ................................................................. 3
   David De Cremer

PART II
REFLECTIONS ON (UN)ETHICAL BEHAVIOR

2 On the Causes and Conditions of Moral Behavior:
   Why is This All We Know? ................................................................. 17
   Scott J. Reynolds and Tara L. Ceranic

3 Psychological Processes in Organizational Corruption ............... 35
   Celia Moore

PART III
PROCESSES WITHIN THE INDIVIDUAL AND ETHICAL BEHAVIOR

4 Moral Self-Regulation: Licensing and Compensation .................. 75
   Chen-Bo Zhong, Katie Liljenquist, and Daylian M. Cain
CONTENTS

5 Ethical Standards in Gain versus Loss Frames ........................................... 91
   Jessica S. Cameron and Dale T. Miller

6 Why Leaders Feel Entitled to Take More: Feelings of Entitlement As a Moral Rationalization Strategy ......................... 107
   David De Cremer, Eric van Dijk, and Chris P. Reinders Folmer

7 Actual and Potential Exclusion as Determinants of Individuals’ Unethical Behavior in Groups .................................................. 121
   Madan M. Pillutla and Stefan Thau

8 When The Need to Trust Results in Unethical Behavior: The Sensitivity to Mean Intentions (SeMI) Model ....................... 135
   Mario Gollwitzer and Tobias Rothmund

9 The Neural Basis of Morality .................................................................. 153
   Maarten A. S. Boksem and David De Cremer

PART IV

THE SOCIAL CONTEXT AND ETHICAL BEHAVIOR

10 The Two-Fold Influence of Sanctions on Moral Concerns ............. 169
   Laetitia B. Mulder

   David M. Mayer, Marieth Kuenzi, and Rebecca L. Greenbaum

12 Ethics and Rule Adherence in Groups ............................................... 215
   Tom Tyler and David De Cremer

Biographical Sketches ............................................................................ 233