Contents

List of Figures, Tables and Charts vii

Acknowledgements ix

List of Abbreviations xii

Introduction 1
Clio's Veil 1
Historiographic Contexts 4

1 Becoming Prisoners of War 31
The Creation of the Austro-Hungarian POW Problem 31
Austro-Hungarian POWs in Russia: A Quantitative Overview 34
Becoming POWs: The View from Below 44

2 The Hague Convention and the Treatment of POWs: Mission and Omissions 67
Prisoner of War Camps in World War I and the 'Barbaric' Twentieth Century 67
The Legal Framework 69
The 'Prototype' Thesis 78

3 The Treatment of POWs in Russia 87
Prisoner of War Camps and other Places of Internment 88
Living Conditions in POW Camps 97
Prisoners of War as Labor 107
Propaganda and Recruitment Among the Prisoners 115
The Treatment of POWs and the Perception of World War I 122
Contents

4 In Search of the ‘Good and Loyal Prisoner’: The Austro-Hungarian Censorship and the POWs 133
  Patriotism in a Multi-National State 133
  The Austro-Hungarian POW Censorship 135
  Austro-Hungarian POWs, the Censorship and the Issue of Loyalty 145

5 The Emperor’s Clothes: The Austro-Hungarian POW Relief Effort 161
  POW Relief in World War I: The Uniqueness of the Eastern Front 161
  The Austro-Hungarian POW Material Relief 164
  The Austro-Hungarian Nurses 172

6 Imperial Identities and Personal Concerns: The Perspective of the Prisoners 191
  Repatriation and the Repatriation System (Heimkehrwesen) 191
  Prisoner of War Letters and their Usefulness as a Historical Source 196
  The Relief Effort: The Prisoners’ Perspective 197

Epilogue: Captivity in the Collective Remembrance of the Great War – The Emergence of a Commemorative Pecking Order 221

Bibliography 231

Index 251