Preface, vii

1 The Human Mitochondrion and Pathophysiology of Aging and Age-related Diseases, 1
   D.C. Wallace

2 Sirtuins: A Universal Link between NAD, Metabolism, and Aging, 39
   S.-i. Imai and L.P. Guarente

3 Calorie Restriction in Lower Organisms, 73
   S.L. Helfand, J.H. Bauer, and J.G. Wood

4 Evolutionary Theory in Aging Research, 95
   S.N. Austad and T.B.L. Kirkwood

5 An Overview of the Biology of Aging: A Human Perspective, 113
   G.M. Martin and C.E. Finch

6 p53, Cancer, and Longevity, 127
   L.A. Donehower and A.J. Levine

7 Aging Processes in Caenorhabditis elegans, 153
   H.A. Tissenbaum and T.E. Johnson

8 Cellular Senescence: A Link between Tumor Suppression and Organismal Aging?, 185
   J.M. Sedivy, U.M. Munoz-Najar, J.C. Jeyapalan, and J. Campisi

9 Genome-wide Views of Aging Gene Networks, 215
   S.K. Kim
10 Aging in Mammalian Stem Cells and Other Self-renewing Compartments, 237
   D.J. Rossi and N.E. Sharpless

11 Yeast, a Feast: The Fruit Fly Drosophila as a Model Organism for Research into Aging, 267
   L. Partridge and J. Tower

12 DNA Repair and Aging, 309
   V.A. Bohr, D.M. Wilson III, N.C. de Souza-Pinto, I. van der Pluijm, and J.H. Hoeijmakers

13 Extended Life Span in Mice with Reduction in the GH/IGF-1 Axis, 347
   J.J. Kopchick, A. Bartke, and D.E. Berryman

14 Alzheimer's Disease: Genetics, Pathogenesis, Models, and Experimental Therapeutics, 371
   P.C. Wong, D.L. Price, L. Bertram, and R.E. Tanzi

15 How Does Caloric Restriction Increase the Longevity of Mammals?, 409
   R. Weindruch, R.J. Colman, V. Pérez, and A.G. Richardson

16 Determination of Aging Rate by Coordinated Resistance to Multiple Forms of Stress, 427
   G.J. Lithgow and R.A. Miller

17 Molecular Mechanisms of Aging: Insights from Budding Yeast, 483
   S.-J. Lin and D. Sinclair

18 Genetics of Exceptional Longevity, 517
   T.T. Perls and P. Sebastiani

19 Mammalian Metabolism in Aging, 545
   P. Puigserver and C.R. Kahn

20 Telomeres and Telomerase in Aging and Cancer, 575
   J.W. Shay and W.E. Wright

Index, 599
