

Moscow,
the Fourth Rome

STALINISM, COSMOPOLITANISM, AND THE EVOLUTION OF SOVIET CULTURE, 1931-1941

Katerina Clark

Harvard University Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts • London, England

2011

Contents

Introduction: The Cultural Turn	1
1. The Author as Producer: Cultural Revolution in Berlin and Moscow (1930–1931)	42
2. Moscow, the Lettered City	78
3. The Return of the Aesthetic	105
4. The Traveling Mode and the Horizon of Identity	136
5. “World Literature”/“World Culture” and the Era of the Popular Front (c. 1935–1936)	169
6. Face and Mask: Theatricality and Identity in the Era of the Show Trials (1936–1938)	210
7. Love and Death in the Time of the Spanish Civil War (1936–1939)	242
8. The Imperial Sublime	276

9. The Battle over the Genres (1937-1941)	307
Epilogue	345
Notes	353
Acknowledgments	409
Index	411