Contents

Figures 11
Tables 13
Acknowledgements 15

ANDREAS GESTRICH, STEVEN KING AND LUTZ RAPHAEL
The experience of being poor in nineteenth- and early-twentieth-century Europe 17

Section 1: The experience of being poor: networks, migration, survival strategies 41

RICHARD DYSON
Who were the poor of Oxford in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries? 43

MARGARET HANLY
Being poor in nineteenth-century Lancashire 69

THOMAS SOKOLL
Writing for relief: Rhetoric in English pauper letters, 1800–1834 91

MICHELE GORDON AND JENS GRÜNDLER
Migration, survival strategies and networks of Irish paupers in Glasgow, 1850–1900 113

ELIZABETH HURREN
The business of anatomy and being poor: Why have we failed to learn the medical and poverty lessons of the past? 135

PETE KING
Destitution, desperation and delinquency in early-nineteenth-century London: Female petitions to the Refuge for the Destitute 157
Section 2: Confinement, discipline, surveillance, classification: paths to the welfare state

INa Scherder
Galway workhouses in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries: Function and strategy

Inga Brandes
‘Odious, degrading and foreign’ institutions? Analysing Irish workhouses in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

Virginia Crossman
The humanization of the Irish Poor Laws: Reassessing developments in social welfare in post-Famine Ireland

James Smyth
‘Seems decent’: Respectability and poor relief in Glasgow, c. 1861–1911

Beate Althammer
Functions and developments of the Arbeitshaus in Germany: Brauweiler workhouse in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries

Katrin Marx
From ‘old’ poor relief (Armenpflege) to ‘new’ welfare (Wohlfahrtspflege): Development of ‘family care’ in rural Germany

Jürgen Harder
German reformatories in the Weimar Republic: A view from inside

Kristina Matron
Big-city youth and psychological health: Municipal youth welfare in Frankfurt am Main during the Weimar Republic
Section 3: The symbolism of poverty

STEVEN KING
The clothing of the poor: A matter of pride or of shame?

MATTHIAS REISS
The image of the poor and the unemployed: The example of Punch, 1841–1939

ANDREAS GESTRICH
Depicting the ‘moral dregs of our great population’: An 1890 illustrated newspaper series on ‘The Homes of the Glasgow Poor’

MARTIN KRIEGER
Walking stick and begging permit: Perceptions of rural poverty in photography from Germany between 1916 and 1936

LUDWIG MARIA VOGL-BIENEK
‘From life’: The use of the magic lantern in nineteenth-century social work

GERHILD KREBS
Poverty and crime in silent fiction films

Contributors

Bibliography